ALLIED RECEIVES BUSINESS EXCELLENCE AWARD

Jr. Achievement honors the Hunt Family

SPOKANE, Wash. (May 3, 2010) – Jr. Achievement of the Inland Northwest recently honored Allied Fire & Security and the Hunt family by inducting them into the 2010 Business Hall of Fame.

This Hall of Fame induction honors men and women whose inspirational leadership has set the example for business excellence and courageous thinking, according to Jr. Achievement.

“Our family and business is honored to receive this award, but it is the employees who helped pave the way for all this to be possible,” President, Jay Hunt, said. “They are the reason we are in business and we are deeply appreciative to have the opportunity to work with such a fabulous team of individuals.”

The Hunt family has owned and operated Allied Fire & Security for three generations. A total of 16 Hunt family members have been employed by Allied throughout the years.

Allied began as a small five-employee lock shop in Spokane, Wash. in 1948. Now with about 150 employees, Allied continues to operate its three primary branches in Spokane, Seattle and Portland. Allied steadfastly promotes and supports numerous local social service organizations in all three communities – a tradition begun by Allied’s founder, the original Hunt family employee, R.A. (Bob) Hunt.

Please contact Allied Fire & Security’s Spokane branch for more information.

Allied Fire & Security has been providing home and business owners life safety, security and communications solutions throughout the Pacific Northwest since 1948.
